

What's On This Week?

6th November 2023

Dear All,

Despite a dreary and wet week, we've had a lot of fun being back in school. From pumpkin carving and outdoor learning, where we made spells and wands to telling some truly fantastic Halloween jokes (thanks P4/5), it's been great.

Our big news is that the HMIE team will be coming to our school on 20th November to look at teaching, learning and assessment, to review our attainment and check our safe-guarding. We are, of course, nervous, but looking forward to getting advice and next steps on how to improve. In education, nothing stands still, and we know we always have to keep improving. It would be a huge help if you could watch for the email with the survey information coming out from the school office today and complete that.

We'd like to also warmly welcome back Mrs Kelly-Smith who was in half of the week in P1-3 (she is job sharing with Mrs Ferguson). And we were all very happy to see Alex Stone visit school today – he returns on Monday.

Lastly, P7 have asked me to let you know that if your child would like to make a donation to purchase a poppy next week, they will be selling them on behalf of Poppy Scotland.
